BABY MINNIE.

JAMES G. HATCHIFT. P. M.

She came from Heaven downward-This little winsome thing-Just like a pretty feather, Pluck'd from an angel's wing.

I know some angel's pinions Have lolded her within; I know some chernb artist Made dimples in her cbin.

I know the little azure That fills her bushful eyes Was caught there when she lifted The conopy of skies.

May God bless little Minnie, Find, on life's weary marches, The paths with flowers sweet.

And when life's day is ended-When comes its final ev'n-May angel watchfires show her The pathway back to Peaven.

"How do you do, Miss Hannah?"
"You are wrong, sir; it is Miss Sue."

"Are you humbugging?"
"Truly not; I tell you sincerely. You now address Sue Grover."

"I saw she looked unusually tender, and taking advantage of her lattering voice and tremulous manner, I declared my love, and she returned it with all the ardor of her true and impassionate nature. I summoned the old folks; told our devotion; gave prospects, and made all essential revelations. The senior Grovers gave us their blessings, and assured as that they would see our course of true love should ruu smooth.

"But what if that other girl were to come in? What a pretty mix! How would I ever know my girl? Though again, I assure you it would have made no difference. I would have proposed to Hannah just the same. My only trouble was in the multitude of embarassnents incident to no distinguishment. On this

"Betore Hannale returned I invited Sne to take a walk in the green. When apposite the center of the church, I spoke of the betrothal ring, and requested her to please let me see the ring the wore. She took it off, and I careless played with it, to throw her off her gnard-then, calling her attention to a party of stu leats, took my Congress krife and drew th file blade through the inner part. It left a nice mark, and by this I hoped to identify her in luture. On our return to the house I secret ly posted her parents. They said that I did properly; that it was time that Sue should be recognized by her affianced. " You think you are smart,' said she, ere I

".Why?" replied L.

6 Oh! responded she, that ring game has been tried by a half dozen admirers. I sus-picioned what you were at, but thought I world see how many heads would conceive the sarie plan."

The next day neither she nor her sister wore a ring. One week after, they resumed them. but in neither was there a mark. It was evident that I was to be ont-generaled, and would have to depend on the discretion of my in-tended, and the goodness of her parents.

"At parties I had several trials. I never

The reputation this ex-cellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its rings, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of serofulous dis-ease, where the system seemed saturated with corruntion, have been seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and carred by it. Seroful ous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the serofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically carred in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or nees.

Serofulous poisou is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and un felt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, tenant of the organism numbermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tuhercles may be suddenly deposited in the langs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by cruptions ou the skin, or foul inferntions on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsapavilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SaitsAparilla. L.1: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Frysipellas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other cruptions of visible forms of Serojulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Tits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Merenrial Diseases are cared by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will enrections for each case are found in our Almanae, supplied gratis. THE NEW DEPARTURE.

We have not eared to waste time or space on the discussion of the is-ues raised by the introduction into the policical field of the phrase at the head of our article, and the policy which it is supposed to cover. We believed, at the time it was put forth, that it was an ophemeral excitement, which would have its day and pass into obscurity, just as a thousand similar schemes have run their ceurse, or died with the passage from the stage of those who proposed them. With Vallandigham alive, to press forward the movement which he inaugurated in his county convention, and to attract or repel others by its use as a personal stepping-stone to place, we have no doubt it might have grown into some such disturbing element in the Democratic party as the Douglas theory of territorial the stale allusion to "Bourbons," which we power upon which he made his race for the Senate, and staked his fortunes for the Presiidency. But the death of Mr. Vullandisham took away from the movement that personal it, in reality as in name, a new departure from the right line of Democratic faith and policy.

We do not mean to charge that it was Mr Vallan ligh un's purpose to take a position which would place him in antagonism with the Democratic party, or that he would have consented to yield any well-established principle in the programme he had marked out ; but it was evident at an early stage that a by the resignation of the Hon. W. S. Pryor. strong effort was being made to give the movement a construction altogether inadmissible. The proposition to recognize and accept the last two amendments as de fects parts of the Constitution, and therefore, entitled to full obedience until modified or repealed by a power as competent as that which enacted them was not new. What ever may have been the charges against those who have as we, opposed these incasures, they have never, even in theory, contein plated or advised any revolutionary or factious resistance, but have, on the contrary, the former ground, but repuliate the latter, denouncing the deception: When, therefore, such a construction is given to the New Departure as to insist that, und r its teachings, we shall take the amendments to our cordial embrace, and use them as cornerstones upon which to build a new kind of Democracy, we say we will have none of it : and herein lies the difference we have alwiys cantended for between those who advoeated and those who opposed the New Departure business. Latterly, however, a new tone is being assumed by the few papers in Ken- pressed as antagonistic to the principles and tucky which have been in favor of the New purposes of the Democratic party. Further, Departure, and they now, almost without exception that the same originated from a Radical source tion conform their opinions to a healthier stand - with the intention to deceive the people and ard. THE TRI-WEEKLY YEOMAN tion meets, each State, through its delegation, will have its due weight in shaping the platform, and we have no fear that there will be any difficulty in arriving at a harmonious result, nor that the principles ennnejated will be at variance with ours. All the talk about our not being in sympathy with the national Democracy, and being ruled out of the Democratic Convention, is sheer nonsense. We heard all that four years ago, when the leaders of the Third Party arraigned us on the same grounds, much more ably, and with much more plausibility than it has been done of late. Yet, when the convention met in New York, there was no Democrat from Kentucky who found fault with its action, and Kentucky exerted as much influence in that bidy as any other State. We say, therefore, that we are not disturbed at anything we have read or heard lately about the New Departure. On the contrary, we are gratified at the tone of the "country press" in defining its meaning as they understand it. Especially the l'adneah Kentuekian, the Danville Advoeate, and the Mt. Sterling Sentinel, which have been regarded as the chief supporters of it. In their late issues they repudiate the idea that the amendments are to be ratified or indorsed as worthy precedents to huild upon, and simply say we must obey the amendments as de fucto parts of the law o' the land—a position we maintain when we recognize the legal right of the negro to vote in Kentucky, and count his vote in proclaiming the result of the last election. It, therefore, matters not to us whether they have come over to us or we to their position, we say that, without changing a sentence or modifying a sentiment we have ever written since the Fisteenth Amendment was put 'in force, we see in the atterances of these papers since the election but little if anything at variance with our position, which we cannot commend as sound and in good taste, except with some

GREELEY ON THE ONE TERM RULE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 - Harnce Greeley will pen the Presidential campaign with an article in the forthcoming November Galaxy on "The One Term Principle." The following summary is made frem advance sheets:

Starting with the blea that civil service re-form is essential to the purification of our poltics and demanded by all thoughtful citizens, Mr. Greeley contends that the desire and hope of the President to serure re-election, and his Forts to that end effectually prevent the reformation. Cavic service reform means the selection of the littest men for office instead of the most effective (or noisy) politicians of the dominant party. The truits of the present system are wide spread incapacity, inefficiency, dishonesty, and peculation. A postmaster, uot to be too exacting, ought to know how to read, which some do, while others do not. Any one will admit that such an ability is desirable in his vocation, but if the one who lacks it is the most efficient partisan, and has done the most toward the President's selection, his claims cannot well be averborne, Will not his services be wanted four years And how are they to be retained, if his "claims" are postponed to those of one who can read, but has no skill in manipalating

Mr. Greeley asks, 'llow much better is this than the absurdity of hereditary legislators? If our Federal and local functionaries were chosen by lot, would they overage worse than they now do?" That "the King can do nothwrong," if taken literally, is irrational. It understood to mean only that he is elevated above all temptation to misrule, that his doing wrong would argue moral, if act mental insnaity; that he cannot be presumed to have acted within his perogative nader the sway of any unworthy motive, then the maxim becomes intelligible. The justification of royalty is its nileged teadency to place the chief ruler of a nation above all temptation to rety is its nileged teadency to place the chief gard and pursue his own interest at the expense of the public weal. Mr. Greeley then discusses the question bistorically; the growth of the patronage of the President; the efforts to restrict the President to one term by proposed connistitutional amendments; the seilish reasons for the defent of .

these latter, and the rapid accumulation of the evils grawing out of the power of patronage, and the temptation of the President to use that patronage, and for his re-election. Mr. Greeley concludes his historical argument thus: "The Whigs, in due time, took up the une term principle, and Mr. Clay expressly gave it his powerful support. He failed to achieve the Presideacy, and did not succeed in engratting that principal on the Federal Constitution; but You Buren, who was first chosen in 1836 by a decided majority, was left in a meager minority at the close of his curva-s

REMARKS OF HON. THOMAS E. BRAM-LETTE AND W. R. THOMPSON, IN THE MEELING HELD IN THE COURT OF APPEALS ROOM SIPIEMBER 6TH. ON THE OCCASION OF THE RETTREMENT

OF CHIEF JUSTICE ROBERTSON. May it please the court, the committee uppointed on yesterday by this honorable court, to prepare and present to this court some suitable testimonial of the reverent respect in which our retiring Chief Justice, Robertson, is held by the bench and bar, have directed me, as chairman, to present the fol lawing report, which I request Hon. W. F. Bullock to read, after which I will submit a motion. Judge Bullock then read the report which was published in the last Yeoman

After the report had been read, &c., Governor Bramlette resumed and said: Although the occusion may be appropriate ing an encomiam npon our retiring Chief Justice, George Robertson, yet it is not my purpose to attempt the vain bask of heaping words of praise upon a man whose grand life-history is his most exalted enlogium Words of mere praise in the presence of the graad proportions and massive structure of his historic deeds of fame become as brass and a tinkling cymbal." The facts which coastruct his history can only convey the true measure of his exalted worth. In 1816, in the 26th year of his age, Judge Robertson was elected to Congress from his nutive State of Kentneky. He was aguia ra-turned in 1818, and again in 1820. He resigned in 1821, and returned to his home to take a leading part in the great struggle then commencing in Kentucky between the triends of constitutional government and those who sought to substitute for constitutional rule the passion and prejudice of a majority, excited by pecuniary necessity. He was elected by the citizens of his native county (Garrard) to the llouse of Representatives in the Kentucky Legislature for the sessions of 1822-23-24-25-26. He fought the battle for the Constitution and came out victor. In 1828 he was appointed Secretary of State by Gov. Metcalle, and in a few months thereafter, in the same year, was appointed to the Appellate beach. In 1829 he was appointed Chief Justice of the State of Kentucky, which position he held until 1843, when he resigned. In 1851, having removed to Fayette conaty senility of Kentucky, and was by that body chosen Speaker by acclamation.

In 1861 the voters of the Third Appellate District, being menaced with military interference in the election then pending for judge, by a spoataneous aprising placed his manie upon the fall books, and elected him to the position from which he had just refired, crowned with honors, reverenced and beloved by all.

Cincutt Judgesiife .- Oa Wednesday Gavernor Leslie appointed Hon. Geo. C. Drane, as circuit judge of the 11th Judicial District, to fill the vacincy occasioned by the resignation of Hon, W. S. Pryor. Judge Dranchas had the experience of six years in the same position as the predecessor of Judge Pryor. As will be seen, the Governor has issued his proclamation ordering an election on the 14th of October. We hear of a number of aspirants, of whom P. U. Major, Esq , and Hon. O. D. McManama, of Grant, are elsewhere announced as candidate.
